A Night all alone
(I Sit all alone)
The same as the last
(I Sit all alone)
The lonely man cries
(I Sit all alone)
from present and past

Though many he's known
(Searching for love)
To lay on his bed
(Searching for love)
The message received
(Searching for love)
By his heart and his head
(Searching for Love) He follows the path
(Looking for you)
That leads to the Bay
(Looking for you)
And remembers a love
(Looking for you)
He let slip away
(looking for you)

Clouds drift through his mind as he walks by
The boats are in their docks under a clear blue sky
He doesn't feel the heat, he doesn't feel the time go by
All he feels is emptiness from the inside
