Should we fuck each other now or should we just pretend That everything between us is cool
We can act like we're some kind of friends

This is what you asked for Don't cry cause it's what you got

Your hypocritical super ego
Makes you think you're gold
But you're suckin my dust as I defy you While you're looking down your nose
You're not a god, you're a goddamn joke
There must be a fire cause you're blowing smoke again
You better be righteous if you're stoning me Cause I got a rock that'll set you free

why why why are you so blind
why why why are you so blind
