i keep going over what i said how your eyes disguise your mind a most incredible blood red but there's nothing coming out there's just empty stares instead and i dont know what it's about thanks to all your silence

how am i gonna know
if you wont talk to me
how am i gonna show you what you got if you wont look at me and now i know
this aint what its supposed to be
and how am i gonna know

i use to hang on every word that you never said but it never occurred it was only in my head the only voice i heard was mine saying everything is fine it was hypnotizing

how am i gonna show you
its not fair
to leave me here when i'm this wasted
no no i guess you were never there

how your eyes disguise your mouth the most incredible blood red

except for all this silence (x5)

and how am i gonna show you

well how am i gonna know
if you wont talk to me (x5)
