"My Advice"

What kind of person would ever have the gall to do this?
That would be me, but then again you knew this
To belong to you is just something that I do
It's cold, I know I resuscitate my feelings daily for you
It necessitates this healing, not to bore you
I do my thing, what the hell
When on the surface all is well tonight
Nobody wants to feel this way again
Nobody ever wanted to my friend
She keeps paying the price
After taking my advice
When I reach the end I hope that she will be there
Did I mention it was never meant to be fair?
I'm on a collision course with you my dear
With every force alive
An attention to detail is no solution
It only further poisons us just like pollution
Never in the mood and never wanting to be rude
It's hard, I know
Nobody wants to feel this way again
Nobody ever wanted to my friend
She keeps payin the price
After taking my advice
She's going to be everything if you let her
It's going to be alright if you can stick together
And if you that you will make it better
You will receive all you wanted to see
But she's not here and you're not clear
Another last and wasted lonely night.
