Well i lived this life and i was just seventeen
This house was built on mamas broken dreams
And then it took me by surprise
When she looked me in the eyes
Oh
And i arrest these teachers for what they have read
And give all your money to the living dead
Like a call girl in her prime
Arriving just in time
Oh
And i am a sentimental man
I try to reach to God with just one hand
Rejecting offers to be with you
All that does is to Keep you by your side
A new way to wave goodbye
And i'm waiting
I'm not waiting!!
And i'm redefining what they could not deceive
Upon their big arrival and then she don't think Take them off to war, if you wanna ask me for some more
I'm taking your days
In her prime
Just in time
