"In a dream I hold you close embracing you with my hands you gazed at me with eyes full of love and made me understand that I was meant to share it with you my heart, my mind, my soul then I opened my eyes and all I see, reality shows I'm alone

(Bridge)

But I know that some day that you'll be by my side cuz I know god's just waiting 'til the time is right

(Chorus)

God will You keep her safe from a thundering storm
When the day is cold, will You keep her warm
When darkness falls, will You please shine her the way
God will You let her know that I love her so When there's no one there, that's she not alone
Just close her eyes and let her know my heart is beating with hers

So I pray until that day (until that day) when our hearts will beat as one (when our hearts will beat as one)
I will wait so patiently (so patiently) for that day to come (for that day to come)

(Bridge)

But I know that some day that you'll be by my side
cuz I know god's just waiting 'til the time is right

(Chorus)

God will You keep her safe from the thundering storm
When the day is cold, will You keep her warm
When darkness falls, will You please shine her the way
God will You let her know that I love her so
When there's no one there, that she's not alone
Just close her eyes and let her know
my heart is beating with hers

beating with hers
my heart is beating with hers
it's beating with hers

(Chorus)

God will You keep her safe from the thundering storm
When the day is cold, will You keep her warm
When darkness falls, will You please shine her the way
God will You let her know that I love her so
When there's no one there, that she's not alone
Just close her eyes and let her know
my heart is beating with hers ooh ooh, it's beating with hers

(whispers)

it's beating with hers"
