"Little Baby"

I'm scared of losing the truth
I'm scared of missing you
But I feel wonderful regret
'bout what we haven't done

I dearen't linger a single second
If I had to say I love you
There you are my little baby
Hold my hand and I won't feel scared
I'm still searching for an answer
What's the color of your dreams
There you are my little baby
Risen' all doubts and pain in me

I'm looking in your face
And feel some kind of shame
But don't you wanna play
This game which has no name

And all the stars are shining for you
All the rainbows cry for you
There you are my pretty baby
Don't be scared I'm close to you
I'm still searching for an answer
Where's the difference in our dreams
Searching findin' losin' hopin'
You will be forever next
