The time has come it's all over
And no more chance to take
The time has come to get closer
We have no rules to break
Every day turns into someone's night
Every day turns into someone's life

Take my hand, take my hand now
And look into my eyes
Understand, understand now
Above us only sky
Every day turns into someone's night
Every day turns into someone's life

And now we know this not the last day of this world
So come on. My hand is right here. So hold one.
And now we know this not the last day of this world
So come on. My hand is right here. So hold one.

The time has come it's all over
The time has come to get closer
