There is a place I know through misery and stone
I'm delirious, neglected and cold
With sadness blossoms overgrown

There's a shadow in the garden
Where we sit and wait alone

There is a grave beneath the shadows, somber with neglect
Now rises half regret
Where no prayer has been since

There's a shadow in the garden
Where the love and I wait
Solid as the day we left it all behind

Diver, we'll rise again
Diver, we'll live again
Diver, in the cities we walk the street will open for us

And the ruins of another time another world
Freedom's on the way, at the end of it all

There's a shadow in the garden
Where the love and I wait
Solid as the day we left it all behind
Diver, we'll rise again
Diver, we'll live again
Diver, in the cities we walk the street will open for us

Like a dream and darkness reaching out for you
Bone and dust enshrouded velvet me and you

To feel the sun against my back
You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd live it all again
You know I wouldn't change a thing
To walk along this place and live

You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd do it all again
You know I'd do it all again

You know I'd do it all again

I wouldn't change a single thing
Just like a dream, we'd live again
We'd live again
