"Her Name In Blood"

Mother Mary bury me in a place they'll never find I kill only what I love and what I love was never mine suffocate you outta me your the darkest of my sins you're burnin' thru my head don't know where I begin and where you end

Your breathless violence open veins in silence and devotion sacred and devine in this love that makes me it's the hurt that moves me to betray you evertime you pull me near

GIVE IT AWAY GIVE IT AWAY RIDE THIS BITCH TO HELL And blow a kiss when you only think of me hold my hand and fuck away this blankness of expression and all sorrows in between her name in blood and her eyes on me her deepest secret lies in front of me a whisper now is all that remains of me you're the center of my unholy shrine scar tissue in time you're all mine your the last hint of self-control my last chance just walked out the door drown out your artery straight thru a love that would never be

her deepest secret lies in front of me

this sacrament(sacrament) is our punishment(is our punishment)
I am the worst part of you you are the only thing left to burn
