Charms in limited supply and refusing to stretch
That indefinable nothing somehow keeps pushing you
Finding the right words can be a problem
How many times must it be said
theres no plan it had to happen
Got to move on sometime and its about time
By putting one foot in front of another
And repeating the process cross over the street
You're free to change your mind
Strength through diversity
Couldn't have put it more plainly
Got to move on sometimes
Got to move on sometimes
Got to move on sometimes
Got to move on sometimes
Charms in limited supply under Threat of extinction
That indefinable nothing somehow motivates you
Finding the right words can be a problem
How many times must it be said
Theres no plan it had to happen
Got to move on sometimes

And its about time

By putting one foot in front of another

And repeating the process

Cross over the street

You're free to change your mind

Strength through Diversity

Couldn't have put it more plainly

Got to move on sometimes
