I mean this, I'm not sure if you could say the same
Week after week after week Idolatry is wasted reverence, idolatry is the yellow on your teeth
Gasp for the truth you once lived

Beyond this world...

Beyond this world is what is always breathing
Beyond this world is worth dying for
Beyond this world is what is always breathing
Beyond this world is worth dying for

...Is worth dying for

I remember what you used to claim
What you used to claim
You can't bury conviction with anything
Our message will grow
Our message will grow
No matter the mistakes made within construction

Beyond this world is what is always breathing
Beyond this world is worth dying for
Beyond this world is what is always breathing
Beyond this world is worth dying for

Gasp for the truth you once lived
You once lived
I pray that stolen glimpses do not subtract from what we've Been building
Keep stride persist in our march
Keep stride persist in our march
