Written by Marty Stuart and Mike Campbell

Scared, I've been scared, out here on my own
Lost, I've been lost, a million miles from home
Running, tired of running, that's all I seem to do
Nothing, I ain't nothing, baby without you
I'm draggin' around these chains of love
And I think I've had enough
Without you I ain't that tough
Draggin' around these chains of love

Tired, I'm tired, tired of missing you
Lonesome, lonesome, lonesome through and through Hurt, yeah it hurt, when my heart broke in two
Hope, I keep hoping, that's all I know to do
I'm draggin' around these chains of love
And I think I've had enough
Without you I ain't that tough
Draggin' around these chains of love

I'm draggin' around these chains of love
And I think I've had enough
Without you I ain't that tough
Draggin' around these chains of love
