

Stuart Marty "Stone Blind"

Visit "Stone Blind" on MotoLyrics.com

Written by Max D. Barnes

My iron-clad mind didn't how to listen
To things that your heart was trying to say
But time after time I paid no attention
And only a fool would do you that way

Stone blind, I just couldn't see
How much you meant to me when you were mine
Stone blind, I let you slip through my hands
Right to the end, I must have been
Stone blind

My hair-trigger heart couldn't say I was sorry
Admit I was wrong or swallow my pride
So time played the part of the judge and the jury
You're already gone when I open my eyes

Stone blind, I just couldn't see
How much you meant to me when you were mine
Stone blind, I let you slip through my hands
Right to the end, I must have been
Stone blind
Right to the end, I must have been
Stone blind

Visit Stuart Marty page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.