"Round Table Conference"

Visit "Round Table Conference" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a round table conference going on
Right there in my living room
I've been caught behind the door for so long
I don't even know who is coming in

All I can hear are these mysterious words
I am feeling delirious
I gotta get out of here to where the air is clearer

There's a round table conference going on
Right there in my living room
I've been caught behind the door for so long
I don't even know who is coming in

There are streams of people passing through my door
I can't count them anymore, I don't understand
Where they're going or where they've been
I don't even know why I let them in

All I can hear are these mysterious words
I am feeling delirious
I gotta get out of here to where the air is clearer

All I can hear are these mysterious words
I am feeling delirious
I gotta get out of here to where the air is clearer

There's a round table conference going on
Right there in my living room
