What's happening with you and him
Do you believe you can find a way to begin again
Is it still there, do you really care
Do you need this, is this the love that you missed

What's happening with you and him
Are you looking for each other
Around your old selves again
Walking on old paths inhaling the dust
Is this the love that got lost
What if you don't know
What if you just let time show
Is it worth it, is it sane, when love goes away again
Can you get yourself together then

What's happening with you and him
Do you believe you can find a way to begin again
Can you trust him, can you take his word
Can you really really give him yours

What's happening with you and him
Are you looking for each other
Around your old selves again
Walking on old paths inhaling the dust
Is this the love that got lost
What if you don't know
What if you just let time show
Is it worth it, is it sane, when love goes away again
Can you get yourself together then

When love goes away again
Can you get yourself together then

Let love show its own face
Let love show our faith
