Burnt Memories.
Porcelain like an infants eyes
Glowing like a face on fire
Singing this lullaby
Painting a fatal goobye, fatal goodbye

And we're bleeding colors of grey
Hear the screaming, fade away

Burn these stains away
No memory, No memory of this
Pain, these stains portray
A memory, A memory, from this

A canvas, yours to beautify
Painting, a peaceful goodbye, a peaceful goodbye

And we're bleeding colors of grey
Hear the screaming, fade away
Burn these stains away
No memory, No memory of this
Pain, these stains portray
A memory, A memory, from this

you'll hear the screaming fade away
White in place of black I pray
Burn these stains away
No memory, No memory of this
Pain, these stains portray
A memory, A memory, from this
