VERSE 1

The sky above is dressed in black
As we melt into the darkness
And the moon is dripping blood
Down the depths of our despair
The wordless songs of blinded rage
Slit the clouds in nightly colors
And all the wounds of human trace
Are like everflowing tears

CHORUS

Where clouds always cry
Where flames fade and die
Where the lakes are tears from our eyes
The heavenly skies
Machine-minded lies
The burial soul of mankind

VERSE 2

We taste the naked flesh of need
Lost in human thirst and hunger
Oh sweet suicidal earth
Clad in sweet destructive urge
The world is dead but still alive
One dead God to shelter no one
Still we write his name in blood
In the wasteland of our dreams

Where clouds always cry
Where flames fade and die
Where the lakes are tears from our eyes
The heavenly skies
Machine-minded lies
The burial soul of mankind
