It began in the summer of grief
As the sovereigns decided to subpress
Our women and children they were bleeding
And our homeland was twisting in agony

We wandered through the sea of life
And heard the souls of the unholy cryin'
Wild waters and the angels of god
Were escorting our gang on its way

When we followed the tail of the comet
We blinded by light
When the flames on the sky started dancing this night
We conceived the achievement was done

Behind the gates of Avalon - of Avalon
The gates in Avalon - in Avalon

The archangel was presenting his sword
As the men were consenting to fight for their land
The spirits and our hearts grew strong
When injustice was crying for justice
We fought through the sea of life
And heard the souls of the holy rejoicing
Wild waters and the angels of god
Were escorting our gang on its way

When we followed the tail of the comet
We blinded by light
When the flames on the sky started dancing this night
We conceived the achievement was done

Behind the gates of Avalon - of Avalon
The gates in Avalon - in Avalon
Behind the gates of Avalon - of Avalon
The gates in Avalon - in Avalon
