When the night begins to fall
I can feel the memories crawling
Like echos in my head
They have obused me once for some new surgeries
To study my thoughts
When I'm alone at night
I feel someone from outside controlling my dreams
I feel so weak and insecure
And no for sure

They rape minds allthrough the night
And leave without a trace
I can't escape but I try in vain
They manipulate my dreams
And I believe in what they want
And I'm mindraped

I will never really know
How they interfere between my thoughts
But for sure I'm not alone
Their injected liquid dreams
Which we never can escape
Help them to direct our lifes
When we're alone at night
We feel someone from outside
Controlling our dreams
We feel so weak and insecure
We know for sure

They rape minds allthrough the night
And leave without a trace
We can't escape but we try in vain
They manipulate our dreams
And we believe in what they want
We're all mindraped

Let us out of this world
You've built around our heads
We want to live in independence
INDEPENDENCE

Obey! Consume! Produce!

They rape minds allthrough the night
And leave without a trace
I can't escape but I try in vain
They manipulate my dreams
And I believe in what they want
And I'm mindraped

Let me out of this world
You've built around my head
I want to live in independence

In the 1980s some industrialized nations
Started a major project on dream control
