Storm clouds gather
In the darkened sky
Thunder and lightening preparing to strike
It seems the old nature's gods have decided
To attack
They've been forgotten
But now they strike back

Is this natures revenge? Or is it just heavy weather?
Is it natures revenge? Or even the apocalypse?

We've raped the land
We've intoxicated the sea
We've polluted the air
We've decimated the green
We have lost touch with our big mother earth
We've forgotten the old natures gods
And now we get what we deserve
Temperatures are rising higher
Dry wood burns like hell fire
Glacial ice is melting
The big flood is coming
It is coming
It is natures revenge
It is no heavy weather
It is natures revenge
It is the apocalypse

2000 years of abuse and destruction
Now we pay the price
We'll be swept away
By the powers of nature nothing remains

Is it natures revenge?
Or is it just heavy weather?
Is it natures revenge?
It is natures revenge
It is no heavy weather
It is natures revenge
