

Stygma IV "Time Will Tell"

We're moving on the longrange distance
We're moving close beside our dreams
We're sliding through the mighty gallery
How somebody told us

We're longing for the highest price
Breaking away from the rules
That you've made for all of you

We've left behind the highway of our lives
On our road to destiny
And we can feel it's getting magic

What is it all about

Time will tell

We keep our eyeshot clear
And in the moment of fear
We're drowning in a sea of music

We're longing for the highest price
Breaking away from the rules
That you've made for all of you

We've left behind the highway of our lives
On our road to destiny
And we can feel it's getting magic

What is it all about

Time will tell

Time will tell - if we are right or wrong
Time will tell - in it's certain song
Time will tell - we're telling
Time will tell - we're selling
Time will tell - we sell our dreams
