She's like a drug
she's like a drug
She'll pull you in and spit you out
But you can't get enough

Its nothing I haven't seen before
And too much for you
She'll take what she wants she'll take what she needs
And then she's through Withdrawals have got you down you're calling her back
But she's on to someone else
This addictions gotten to your head and now
You can't control yourself

She'll get you high
She'll get you low
This addiction
Better let it go
She'll get you high
She'll get you low
This addiction
Better let it go

She's like a drug

she's like a drug
She'll pull you in and spit you out
But you can't get enough

Got no energy to go to work
And life is hangin from a thread
Sit alone in your solitude
And you lost a lot of your friends Thinking everything is worse than it is
As you blame the rest of the world
At one time you had it together
But you lost it because of the girl

Doing things that you never thought you would do Saying things that you never thought you would say Becoming something that you never thought you would become

Who wudda thought you would have end up this way
