Wake up to the Shrapnel City
Walk down the street what a pity

Walk up the stairs cause its all there
The open door ain't so bad to bare
When your wirings loose in your privateer
Back in the world and times run out
Nobody knows what it's all about
The floor is opening we're falling south

Rituals and candles burning don't worry baby we're only flirting
When we're faced with death and defeat
Blood pumping solid concrete

Walk up the stairs cause its all there

The open door ain't so bad to bare
When your wirings loose in your privateer
Back in the world and times run out
Nobody knows what it's all about
The floor is opening we're falling south

Walk up the stairs cause its all there
The open door ain't so bad to bare
When your wirings loose in your privateer
Back in the world and times run out
Nobody knows what it's all about
The floor is opening we're falling south
