Arriving home but feeling distraught

Life's not what it used to be, but that's the way it was taught

Leave behind the fear of sleep and the oncoming visions

It's the battle of your mind, of love and decisions

PRECHORUS: Because the mind knows weakness

And weakness is fear

In a land where you can scream

but no one can hear

Enter this timeless plane mind's torment and pain

You only have death to lose and your life to gain

CHORUS:

Dream death - somebody get me out of this nightmare

Dream death - never thought life could be so damn evil

Ask god to help but he seems to be blind

He would help you if he could but evil's in the mind

Contemplate suicide but the dreams won't go away

Death ends life and life starts death, it's easier that way

PRECHORUS

CHORUS

Hide in false illusions, is that the only way you can escape the hate

Put away the past, before your moral freedoms are taken away
