"Take Me Higher"

In the heat of the city at night, theres a race for the trophy of love.
you reach out for a fast reaction, but something is never enough.
All alone when the lights go down, a feeling thats hard to shake.
you had'd out just to givit a treat a habbit thats hard to break.
But we could take a chance on this romance.
couse you looks so fine and i make you mind
if i only had a chance...
Youve got to take me higher, tell me that is worth the
fight.
couse im on fire, tonight.
Turn around theres a new diminution, spreading by a wink of un eye.
But you move straight on to another one, before you even say goodbye.
I know that youre mind is telling, you to get it out of you're way.
Still youre heart can take theres no use to fake,
all that you want to say.
But we could take a chance on this romance.
couse you looks so fine and i make you mind
if i only had a chance...
Youve got to take me higher, tell me that is worth the
fight.
couse im on fire, tonight.
There a heart of higher in youre way, so lets get thing done
and we could be one, before the break of day...
