I've had better days than this words trip like untied shoelaces still you're worth falling down for once in a while and I'm disinclined to admit with you and i this could be it and something's tell me we'll know before too long are you really going out there on your own these tangles lines all come undone how did it feel when you let go you try your luck in your best suit tied to a broken parachute it's the hole in my heart you fell through tried reading tea leaves and the starts in all the days we were apart maybe my mind wasn't made up, but i chose love still I'm inclined to admit, with you and i this might be it these failed predications kept us wondering all the time

I never want to let you down so why not cut these strings before we hit the ground and now you're out there on your own these tangled lines all come undone tell me how it feels letting go

it's the hole in my heart you fell through

if you say I'm wrong I'll say you're wrong but no one has to be right and if you say you're wrong I'll say I'm wrong nothing could be worth this fight we try out luck not our strong suit we can't give up this parachute oh the hole in my heart you fell through
