I can never understand the meaning of our lifes just at he moment when we slipped away turning back the pages like a chapter of a book I couldnt fight you if i tried who do you think you foolin'

who do you think you are close your eyes your mind will see that life's a mystery a hidden game of cheating and pretend they will turn around and hurt you in the end a million tears a thousand lies

price of love
I have to pay
price of love
never again

don't take me for a fool I can't stand it anymore my thoughts are strong enuff to find a way I wanna cure for boredom something to get me on the floor
let me take you for a ride

price of love
price of love
never again
