A cat who hounds at mice for play
Chases his tail when they get away
Mean as a tiger, brute like a bear
He could sleep like a baby in a lion's lair

Imagine my surprise
The devil had angel eyes!

One kiss could chill a burnin' flame
His touch could whip a kitten tame
His laughter is vicious, temper is cruel
When it's hot, hot --- he's too cool

Imagine my surprise
The devil had angel eyes!

Well, let me warn you this --- the devil's tongue is in his kiss
He lifted a finger, drew me in, but then his angel eyes stepped in

He's got a wicked smile and a lot of nerve
He says the meanest things I ever heard!
He lies and steals and comes home late
He's the kind of man I love to hate

Imagine my surprise
The devil had angel eyes!

With that wicked smile and a lot of nerve
He says the meanest things I ever heard!
He lies, steals, comes home late
He's the kind of man I love to hate

Imagine my surprise
The devil had angel eyes!
Imagine my surprise
The devil had angel eyes!
