calling the doctor dr. kildare i'm in a sad sad state of repair can you find something in your bag for me to put me out of my misery i want to shout yeah i want to scream i want to take her for a ride in my dream machine and you can say that i'm the odd man out there must be quite a lot of that going about because it's out of sight means it's out of mind well it's out of sight you got your life girl and i got mine everyday i hear about fidelity it doesn't seem to show up in the girls that i see i have to give myself a second chance i almost lost my head after just one glance i think im smart yeah i think i'm wise and then i take a look into her big blue eyes she tells me leonard i love you so and i could never ever bare to let you go well everyone's saying that she's unaware and that i i just don't care but in my heart things don't feel that way she's driving me out of my mind i've been away for thirty days or more and living with out her can be such a chore so every night i've got to stand alone until i see my girl when i get back home
