"Everyting Will Flow"

Watch the early morning sun, drip like blood from the day,
See the busy people run,
so many games to play
See the blue suburban dream,
under the jet plane sky,
Sleep away and dream a dream
Life is just a lullaby
Ahh, and everything will flow
Ahh, you know everything will flow
Ahh...

Watch the day begin again,
Whispering into the night,
See the pretty people play,
Hurrying under the light,
A million cars, a million trains,
Under the jet plane sky
Nothing lost and nothing gained
Life is just a lullaby
Ahh, and everything will flow
Ahh, I said everything will flow
Ahh, you know everything will flow
Ahh...

Ahh, and everything will flow
Ahh, you know everything will flow
The neon lights in the night tonight will say "everything will flow"
The stars that shine in the open sky
will say "everything will flow"
The lovers kissed with an openness
will say "everything will flow"
The cars parked in the hypermarket know "everything will flow"
