Something suddenly unclear
Someone suddenly my fear
My eyes demand like broken tears
The ladle odor spills on here

If you once knew how I love you
And my dreams colored eyes peeled
Every image to your face and [Incomprehensible]
And if you're happy I am, too
And if you're sleeping I'm with you

But you love someone else
But you want to be with someone else
And I can't believe how dumb I sound
And I put my face over the ground

But you love someone else
But you want to be with someone else
And I can't believe how dumb I sound
And I put my face over the ground
