by Bob Dylan

I can't wait, wait for you to change your mind
It's late; I'm trying to walk the line Well it's way past midnight and there are people all around
Some on their way up, some on their way down
The air burns and I'm trying to think straight
And I don't know how much longer I can wait

I'm your man; I'm trying to recover the sweet love that we knew
You understand that my heart can't go on beating without you Well, your loveliness has wounded me, I'm reeling from the blow
I wish I knew what it was keeps me loving you so I'm breathing hard, standing at the gate
But I don't know how much longer I can wait

Skies are grey, I'm looking for anything that will bring a happy glow Night or day, it doesn't matter where I go anymore; I just go
If I ever saw you coming I don't know what I would do I'd like to think I could control myself, but it isn't true That's how it is when things disintegrate
And I don't know how much longer I can wait

I'm doomed to love you, I've been rolling through stormy weather
I'm thinking of you and all the places we could roam together

It's mighty funny; the end of time has just begun Oh, honey, after all these years you're still the one While I'm strolling through the lonely graveyard of my mind
I left my life with you somewhere back there along the line
I thought somehow that I would be spared this fate

But I don't know how much longer I can wait.
