When I was young my heart could feel
All the love surrounding me
I could look into your eyes without holding my head high
Holding my head up so high

Years came and years they went While I was waiting for the heaven sent Now I'm dancing all alone
Like a king on his throne
No one to take me back home

Swallow my pride
Release everything I feel inside
Touch my world with eager lips one more time
Swallow my pain
And make me believe in love again
Make me believe in love again
