The diesel is so nice
I just need something

The barometer is falling down, I feel so sultry
Something is simmering and boiling inside me
If I ignore it and squeeze out laughter
I charge up with a typhoon, hurricanes and storms

I just need the diesel, I just find the smell
I just sniff it and I can feel the harbor just close by
I just try to sniff the diesel but I can't, I just can't get enough

There's danger, danger

A tide with an undertow, the sea is swelling
Impatience makes me foam
A wave inside me forces out big words
They splash and sprinkle
An angry torrent breaking loose, a flush or rushing joy

The diesel, just makes me feel
It just fills my veins
I don't know why, it just does

The diesel is so
It shouldn't gush out
It just fills me up

Don't want it to be fussy
I can't have a cigarette
It shouldn't gush out

It just fills me up
If I have a cigarette
It would make me go boom

And I can't help it, I'm exploding again
I'm calling weather station Nomad
And satellite Nimbus
It's a blizzard inside me, a bomb ticking
This is the tidal wave

The diesel
Here comes the tidal wave, ho-ho
The diesel
This is the tidal wave

The diesel
Here comes the tidal wave.
The diesel is so nice
