Well they said we'd tear ourselves apart and it turns out they were right 'cause I've never seen you so weak and so far out of breath and I never saw the tide rise so high so fast watch this pawn capture the queen white picket drive-by gargle the stench the storm brings you'll never get enough watch this pawn capture the queen now I can't shake you but I can't take you empty skin bag you're my cum rag and now the flood gates overflow now I see that too much is not enough no this game has been playing for too long yeah you did it did you get enough? my sweet child of fire this love affair is so lost this love affair is so lost cut through the sea this pendulum swings near to me we are the storm so take your ship to port oh it's time to let it go right now it's time to let it go 'cause this feels like half a million years and I know you feel the same way I do don't you well you turned this leak into a riptide your mess - clean it up 'cause we won't be watching these stars no more no more
