"already wasted far too much to find the safety of your touch don't want to swim the turning tide oh I don't want to change you please just let me sit down by your side and I'll promise I'll always be close as the air you breathe

I know I know that I've done wrong this time of year I'm not that strong I let you falter let you doubt I was aching to feel your need I guess it's time I spelled it out leave - run - but you know - isn't it so baby this love will follow out of my mind - every time I'll never stray from your side

I can't believe you still won't see I'm only what you made of me you cut my skin and got inside oh but baby you've gone too deep I couldn't leave you if I tried leave - run but you know isn't it so - baby this love will follow

out of my mind - every time
I'll never stray from your side

yeah you can go but isn't it so - baby this love will follow
out of my mind - every time
I'll never stray from your side
