I want to feel that you're near whenever I call I need to be in your eyes ten feet tall
And when I see you walking down the street
You know how my head gets that funny feelin'
You have me actin' like a man insane Right now I get feelin' high just on your name Slow down, my head's spinnin 'round like I just stood up too fast Woman you heal, my hungry feel each time you walk past

I would give you nearly everything if you would only tell me just how much you really really really really love me
Baby

I know I've never seen a woman quite like you You move slow and that's a sign of changes you've been through You're something that I've never run into before It's nice to know that your head has opened up the door
I would give you nearly everything
if you would only tell me just how much
you really really really really love me
