"Let Me Try"

It's harder than you think
To get through the things clear
I wonder, you're my brother?
Thoughts easy disappear
This weight, this heavy stone
The voices on the phone
"I know that you'll make it
You have nothing to fear"
You can tell your soul, I will not let go
And you can bring it all back home
And shine your light through the hearts of stone
So please let me try
Get me through to your love
And please let me sigh
You know I've tried
But I never find my feelings for you
So please let me try
Do you wanna live
I'll promise you to give
Every little twinkle
Until I loose everything

If you just let me try

You'll wonder why you cried

This poem like an airplane

Will fly and touch the sky

You can tell your soul, I will not let go

Then you can bring it all back home

And shine your light through the hearts of stone

So please let me try

(Just let me try)

Get me through to your love

(To your love)

And please let me sigh

(Just let me sigh)

You know I've tried

But I never found my feelings for you

So please let me try

Just please let me try

Just please let me try

Please let me try

Let me try, try

So please let me try

(Just let me try)

Get me through to your love

(To your love)

And please let me sigh

(Just let me sigh)

You know I've tried

But I never found my feelings for you

So please let me try

Just please let me try
