

Angela Aki

"Black Glasses"

Visit "Black Glasses" on MotoLyrics.com

I wear black glasses
Just a frame of me you see
Fancy window dressing
In the mirror glass
I reflect a bigger me

I use them as a curtain
With two holes to see the world
When I'm not too certain
If the real me inside is
The one who needs to hide

In my glasses I'm the Wizard of Oz
You can hear my voice
I hear your applause

Would you see a clown if
The curtain came down
It could all turn around
If I take them off
Would you call it off?
If I take them off
Take them off for you

Take them off for you

When I wear black glasses
Am I hiding me from view?
Where's my lion's courage
And the Tin Man's heart to feel
I'll be enough for you

In my glasses I'm the Wizard of Oz
You can hear my voice
I hear your applause
Would you see a clown if
The curtain came down
Would you stick around
And see me through?
See me as you?
If I take them off

Take them off for you

So I wear black glasses
Am I hiding me from view?

In my glasses I'm the Wizard of Oz
You can hear my voice
I hear your applause
Would you see a clown if
The curtain came down
Would you stick around
If I take them off
Is the whole thing off? Yeah

In my glasses I'm the Wizard of Oz, wow
You can hear my voice
I hear your applause
Would you see a clown if
The curtain came down
Would you stick around
And see me through?
See me as you?
If I take them off
Take them off
Take them off
For you

Visit Angela Aki page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.