

Ed Newberg

"He's not coming back"

Visit "He's not coming back" on MotoLyrics.com

In your house, it's like a schrine.
I see his photos all the time.
His bright eyes and friendly grin,
I'm sure that we could have been the best of friends.

I wish that I could ease your grief,
Hold you close and make you believe,
That in this world there's only you and me.
But that's not true it's obvious to see.

Chorus:

(Even in your arms, I can't ease your pain. 'Cause in your mirror I still see his picture frame.
And I can't give the love you lack.
'Cause I'm not him and he's not coming back.)

They say true love comes once a lifetime and can never be replaced.
To you my love is just a life line for a loss the you refuse to face.

Chorus: Chorus:

Visit Ed Newberg page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.