"Stop"

I surprised myself, having a conversation with you
You we're beside yourself, but you had to admit it too
It's gone, it's gone, the flow between us
This show, this show, it only demean us

It had to end sometime, there's no use denying
We don't have to suffer, so we can quit trying
Both of our hearts, are already broken,
so leave all the rest, unspoken

I feel ashamed of myself, for letting it go so long How could something so good (so good), slowly turn into something so wrong?
We know, we know, that we're both broken-hearted
It's time, it's time, that we departed

It had to end sometime, there's no use denying
Both of our hearts, are already broken
So leave all the rest unspoken

We can remake ourselves
With each other out of the way
No more hurting

Let's just stop,
try not to fight it
Let's just stop,
try not to fight it
Let's just stop,
try not to fight it
Let's just stop,
try not to fight it

It had to end sometime, (It had to end sometime)
There's no use denying
We don't have to suffer,
So we can quit trying
Both of our hearts, (Both of our hearts)
Are already broken,
So leave all the rest

Unspoken

It had to end sometime,
There's no use denying
We don't have to suffer,
So we can quit trying
Both of our hearts,
Are already broken,
So leave all the rest
Unspoken
