There's a hole in my heart where your love used to be.
I try and fill it with old memories
but since you left it's been gone all along.
Yeah, my love for you burns hot like the sun.
There's a hole in my pocket where my money fall from.
It seems to fall faster than it comes, yeah.
I try and save it but it just can't be done, nah.
My money burns hot like the sun.

When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
It's raining down from the skies above.
When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
I spent my money and I lost my love.
Spent my money and I lost my love.
It's comin' down from the skies above.
I spent my money and I lost my love.
It's comin' down from the skies above.

Well, I got raindrops fallin' on the top of my head but they feel heavy as rocks from all these words that they said
and all these lies that they told and all these promises gone.
We'll fill your future with gold for just another hit song.
I'm sick and tired of sitting and listening to your babbling
about how you wanna save all my problems but you haven't been.
And days, they go by, and then I'm still left to dry.
And man, you wonder why I'm yellin', I'm just sick of all the lies 'cause

When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
It's raining down from the skies above.
When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
I spent my money and I lost.
When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
It's raining down from the skies above.
I spent my money and I lost my love.

Rain falling down, rain falling down.

Black clouds calling and they won't go away.
The rain comes down when the skies turn grey.
Black clouds calling and they won't go away.
Rain comes down.
Black clouds calling and they won't go away.
The rain comes down when the skies turn grey.
Black clouds calling and they won't go away.
The rain comes down 'cause

When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
It's raining down from the skies above.
When it rains it pours and it's comin' down.
I spent my money and I lost my love.
Spent my money and I lost my love.
It's comin' down from the skies above.
I spent my money and I lost my love.
It's comin' down from the skies above.
