and i worked so hard to get ahead just to fall behind i've fallen so far behind that i can't see the top what if i'm afraid, should i be ashamed or do i work hard to prove that they're wrong well, i know who i am but i sure don't know you i sure know your kind, cause there's too many of you you judgmental eyes seem to speak without words why you condemn when you don't understand?

why can't you speak the truth?
we speak our minds-fact without fiction why can't you see the truth?
open your mind, learn for yourself
make up your mind, we know that actions speak louder than words
why won't you hear the truth?
no one can make up your mind, but you too many things we think that we don't say why can't you speak your mind? your poisoned ideas is what's keeping us back maybe it is a lack of something called respect something i wish you had, but never will well you think that you're better, i think you're wrong two bull headed people just can't get along the results of your actions effect everyone
why you condemn when you don't understand
why can't you speak the truth?
we speak our minds-fact without fiction
why can't you see the truth?
speak louder than words
why won't you hear the truth?
you
