we are placed in an illusion gotto find a solution work towards reality and find our true identity we are drops of the same ocean separated from our source until we go back to it we can never find everlasting peace this body is a rented space some day we have to evacuate it time is short my friend and devote this life for the lord from the start till the end.

understand the true purpose of human life which holds the key to escape the viscous cycle of birth and death
