time to communicate with you my true father (lord) though i am your filthy child
please do not be separate from me
yes i am desperate to communicate with you what is mine in this world or any other

not this house
not this car
not this family
though i love them

you are my only true friend all others are going to leave me in this very life or after death
but you will not leave me i hope my true father its time to communicate with you

i don suffer with that my own father does not speak to me forgive my sins and help me know the right way to you

there are the five dacoits lust, anger, vanity, greed, attachment and useless desires rob my precious time and force me to be separate from you
