[Music & Lyrics by Suidakra]

For thousand aeons abiding the time so silent and mute
the wind murmurs a tale

The wise of yore evoked the spirits to see the arcanum
but ay they failed

A witness of wyverns elves and sylvan glory a petrified story of ... ancient realms

[Lead: Arkadius]

Thy mind of stone a secret that accelerates The tides of time awaken by moonlight when a bard reminds a tale

A fresh gale defeats my enchanted mind farewell to my delight but when the moon rises again in my dreams , I will fight

Oh can you see the dancing shadows ? the fairy - ring right there behind the trees ?
close your eyes ...
4. And another cist looms

[Music & Lyrics by Suidakra]

[Lead: Arkadius]

So I reel away to a vale of cists in front of me endless buried names of forlorn games wilting I fall to the ground unable to reach the gate the stones on which he lain all knew his name Fare you well my mother I shall search your flames in the four winds of the land Fare you well my dear son Never forget the end

I awake by moonlight under a lorn tree a forgotten might forces me to the sea

By a lonely seashore a fair young naiad beholds me the spray whispers my name I laud her embrace , my wild young sea

So In desperate longing I take my path unable to turn around a forgotten might lames my will But in my dreams I can hear her voice a flame in the dark a forgotten might makes me chill

By a lonely tree a fair maiden beholds me Eyes of soil , a sylvan goddess her beauty lames my forlorn heart silently the stones whisper a name I laud her embrace like a fuddled bard

So In desperate...

By a bleak ghastly champaign a gibbous moon illuminates staring eyes in the wind burning like infernal blazes I will never laud her cold embrace

But her flames calls my name
