You are running out of time and pushing me to leave
Can't forget all of the ways you walked all over me
There is nowhere left to turn as you find you're all alone
You will see that you have nothing left
Can't you see what you've become?

Take all you want from me
Take what is left of me

And your body's aching
Lungs are vacant
Begging you to breathe
Gaining hope has taken you so long
You give up for release
Yeah, run away from me
Run away from me

It's too late to just move on and it's too soon to forget
Everyone that you let get away
All the things that you regret

Take all you want from me
Take what is left of me

And your body's aching
Lungs are vacant
Begging you to breathe
Gaining hope has taken you so long
You give up for release
Yeah, run away from me
Run away from me

And your body's aching
Lungs are vacant
Begging you to breathe
Gaining hope has taken you so long
You give up for release
Yeah, run away from me
Run away from me
