I believe in you if you believe in me
And I believe that faith and hope and love brings harmony
United once again
We'll stand there hand in hand
And put love back together just the way....

I believe in you
If you believe in me
And I believe that faith and hope and love brings
harmony
United once again
We'll stand there hand in hand
And put love back together just the way we've always planned

I still remember how it used to be Seclusion in our love so deep
A world to touch that meant so much to me
And promises we couldn't hope to keep

The cool romance and nights of ecstasy
Slip slowly by on paper wings
The cold reality of you and me
Came creeping like a storm cloud gathering

The balance of our love hangs tenderly
A careful step through broken glass
One thoughtless word could kill a memory
And days we loved together in the past

I give and take I do my very best
To keep this vision that I've seen
I give respect if you could just accept
There never really was a perfect me

You walk away and see yourself in retrospect
Remember all of love's first visions
Step aside try to see just what went wrong
Living together isn't easy all the time

I believe in you if you believe in me oh
There's still the chance that we can find romance
I know we can

United undivided...
