You seem to be in a dizzy spin and you can't work it out you can't explain the mood you're in you're stumbling about

But it's the same thing happening to you as happened to me

I understand what you're going through over emotional and confused you can't keep up with your change of moods but it's true
these are the things we do when love takes over you

You've got no time now, for anyone even friends get in the way but you won't take any good advice or listen to what I say

Because it don't just happen to you it happens to everyone

it's nothing new 'cos I've been there too it's all too much for a girl like you yes it's true

Ooh baby la-la-la-la-la

as happened to me

it's nothing new 'cos I've been there too
these are the things we do when love takes over you
